About DBED

The mission of DBED – the Maryland Department of Business and Economic Development – is to attract new businesses, stimulate private investment and create jobs, encourage the expansion and retention of existing companies and provide businesses in Maryland with workforce training and financial assistance. The department promotes the state's many economic advantages and markets local products and services at home and abroad to spur economic development, international trade and tourism. Because they are a major economic generator, the department also supports the arts, film production, sports and other special events.

DBED's vision is to continue to build on Maryland's unprecedented prosperity by promoting the positive story of Maryland's great business climate and outstanding quality of life. In addition, DBED will ensure that all areas of the state share equally in its prosperity, and will continue to promote Maryland as a leader in the new economy.

Report scope and methodology

This report is based on public announcements of planned employment creation and capital expenditures in Maryland by businesses. Some of the new facilities announced may not yet be in operation, as the time between announcement and occupancy is often many months, and sometimes years. Data indicates the new economic activity occurring in the State of Maryland. This report does not measure employment growth.

Information is gathered from the Maryland Department of Business and Economic Development's (DBED) staff, county economic development officials, and published sources. All information is obtained on a voluntary basis and no claim is made that data is complete.

Projects span the range from manufacturing and distribution to high technology, communications, finance and insurance, health care, and business services. This report does not capture residential or retail projects (shopping malls, stores, restaurants, bank branches, personal services, etc.), investment deals and real estate purchases, public or private schools, colleges and universities, government space leasing, hospitals, or other general construction projects.

In differentiating new projects from expansion projects, the following criteria are considered:

- New – Companies that are new to Maryland; or, existing Maryland companies that plan to establish another operation in a different labor market area (see definitions on page 4) within Maryland.
- Expansion – Companies that have announced plans to expand their existing Maryland operations within the same labor market, even if at a new location.

In designating jobs as new, the following criteria are considered:

- Jobs are to be created within two years of the date of announcement.
- If the company moves into the state from outside Maryland, or moves from one labor market area to another within Maryland, all jobs resulting from the relocation are considered new.
- If the company moves from one jurisdiction to another within the same labor market area in Maryland, only jobs added are considered new.
